WHEAT HARVEST TO BEGIN SOON

Probable That Some Fields Will be Entered With a Binder by Next Week, Farmers Say.

RIPENED RAPIDLY OF LATE

In Spite of Early Reports of Hessian Fly, This Parasite Will Not Cause Damage.

Wheat harvest will begin in Rush county next week, it is believed, because the warm weather of the last week ripened the wheat rapidly. The new crop will begin to come into local market by the latter part of the month.

As the time for the harvest approaches, the more certain it is that the crop will be a record breaker. In spite of the early reports that Hessian fly had damaged the wheat, the fields are in good condition. It is the general belief that the crop will be the largest grown in Rush county in many years and that the yield will be larger.

The Hessian fly has appeared in some places, but the damage it did was not great. In some fields the stalks were weakened by the fly, but no serious results will be noted unless a strong wind should blow before the harvest because the weakened stalks would be unable to withstand it.

As a whole the farmers are happy over the prospect of a good crop and are expecting excellent results. Some farmers anticipate storing their wheat with the expectation of a higher price prevailing after harvest. All of the wheat crop is not sold just as soon as it is harvested by any means. Because of the large crop this year the general conditions prevalent, it is likely that more of the crop will be sold at harvest this year than formerly.

Since wheat is one of the principal crops in Rush county, a big yield means much to the farmers of the county and consequently to the community. In agricultural communities

CROP PROSPECTS IN STATE BRIGHT

Harvest Will be Largest in History of Indiana, it is Believed From Best Estimates.

CORN IS NEARLY PERFECT

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., June 13.—Reports gathered today from many parts of the state all tended to show that crop conditions in Indiana are the best in years. The conclusion is that the harvest will be one of the largest in Indiana's history. It already has begun in the southwestern part of the state.

The stand of corn through the state is said to be near perfection. Hot weather that has caused human suffering was a great benefit. The dry weather enabled farmers to cultivate to the last moment, but it hurt the oats.

The call for harvest laborers from the west has brought response here. Groups of men in twenties and thirties have been shipped by employment agencies for several weeks. An average of ten men a day have gone into Iowa from Indiana.

LOCAL MASONS AT ORANGE

Degree Team Conferred Work Last Night.

Thirty-five members of the local Masonic lodge went to Orange last night where the third degree was conferred on a class of candidates. The degree team from the Rushville lodge did the work. Visitors were present from other lodges in the county and a large delegation from Connersville. Following the work strawberries and ice cream were served. Over one hundred were in attendance.

The inspection will be in charge of Col. Phelps, of Newcastle, and General Samuel L. Trabue, of this city.

The third regiment is composed of the Uniform Rank lodges in Newcastle, Richmond, Cambridge City, Rushville, Knightstown, Wilkinson, Hagerstown and Greenfield. The meeting last year was held in Newcastle.

F. M. HINTON DEAD IN ARLINGTON

Aged Resident Passed Away Following
Several Weeks' Illness
From Heart Disease.

WIDOW AND SIX CHILDREN

Francis M. Hinton, 74 years old, died this morning at eight-thirty o'clock at his home in Arlington, after a several weeks' illness from heart disease and dropsy. Mr. Hinton had been in a serious condition for several days and because of his advanced age death was expected. For many years he lived south of Arlington but for some time had been a resident of Arlington.

He is survived by his widow and six children, two daughters and four sons. The funeral services will be conducted Monday afternoon at two o'clock at the late residence. Burial will take place in the Arlington East Hill cemetery.

FELL ON STOVE.

Ruth Perkins, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Perkins of Jersey City, was painfully burned about the face, hands and arms this morning when she fell from a high chair onto the cook stove. The girl's mother was present at the time and this was all that saved her from being fatally hurt.

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Maxey went to Milroy this morning to attend the funeral of W. B. Richey.

DOES IT APPLY TO POSTOFFICE?

Much Speculation as to Whether Order Giving Half Holiday is Effective Here.

PRESIDENT HAS SIGNED IT

Declared at Local Office That Such Action Would be Impractical
For all Employees.

Much speculation has been indulged in at the postoffice since the publication of a dispatch from Washington that says President Wilson has affixed his signature to an executive order providing that federal employees shall work but four hours on Saturday between June 15 and September 15. They are fully aware that they are federal employees but are wondering if the order providing for the half-holiday on Saturday during the summer months applied to them.

Apparently the order is broad in its effect as the dispatch says that federal employees "whatever stationed" shall be required to work only four hours on Saturday during the time specified. No official notice has been sent to this time and for this reason the local employees are doubtful if the new provisions apply to clerks and carriers in offices of this size. Some believe that the order provides a half holiday only for the employees at Washington but such a regulation would hardly be issued at this time as that rule has been in force at the capital for some time. Also the phrase "wherever stationed" would probably have not been used if only the Washington City employees were to be benefited.

There is a likelihood that the full order is not quoted in the dispatch from the capital and that some restricting clause which places an entirely different construction on the meaning has been omitted. If the order does include the employees of the local office a notice to that effect will soon be received. The clerks and carriers have frequently suggested that a half holiday be granted them on Saturday during the summer months and the question has been discussed at their conventions.

If the order is general and includes all offices throughout the country it will be necessary to prepare a new schedule for the collection and delivery of mail on Saturday afternoon. This matter has been given no consideration by Postmaster Hunt as the official bulletin has not reached him.

Employees of the postoffice declare it would be very impracticable if the order does apply to the postoffice department, especially for rural mail carriers. Very few of them could drive over their route and deliver all of their mail in four hours. It is further pointed out that mail has to be dispatched on time every day in the week.

TO REACH CRUISES MONDAY

Mediators Will Decode Determining Factor, President Hears.

On Board President Wilson's train, Baltimore, June 13.—The determining crisis in the Mexican situation will be reached Monday or Tuesday, President Wilson said today. He received a Mexican message from Washington informing him of the agreement on the first section of the protocol. He was in high spirits.

ENQUIRER ON THE NEW TARIFF

Cincinnati Newspaper, Long Democratic, Wonders Why Food Isn't Produced Here.

PRINTS TELLING EDITORIAL

Calls Attention to Decreased Exports and Increased Imports.
Under Democratic Law.

Many people here have wondered at the editorial which the Cincinnati Enquirer, a Democratic newspaper that has always advocated a low tariff, published this week. The Enquirer calls attention to the large amount of gold that has gone out of the country and to the decreased exports and increased imports since the Democratic tariff bill went into effect. The Enquirer wonders why the people of the United States cannot produce the foodstuff which the people of the United States consume. The editorial follows:

Gold continues to depart from this country, and, while as yet there is no financial stringency occasioned by its leaving our shores, yet it would make affairs brighter if it remained with us.

Bankers with foreign connections say that selling of our securities here by foreign investors who need cash is the principal reason for the gold going out, and they predict that this action will continue to draw gold from the United States.

Since January 1 the shipments of gold from this country amounted to upward of $37,000,000, and everything points to the shipment of several additional millions before the export ceases.

The large increase in value of our imports in April, accompanied, as it was, by large decrease in value of our exports, as compared with April, 1913, marks a change in financial operations that calls for attention by the Government, as well as by the business men of the country.

One month, or two, or three of these results will not injure or disturb business, but a series of such increases and fallings off would surely result in still greater demands from Europe upon our gold supply.

It is essential to good times in this country that our trade balances abroad be heavily in our favor.

It is not pleasant reading, with our productive country, embracing such a range of latitude and climate conditions favorable for growing foodstuffs, to find our exports of such products decreasing and our importations of them rising rapidly in amounts and value.

The first six months of the new tariff, as reported by the Department of Commerce, show these results, and these heavy importations of foodstuffs will undoubtedly call for the cash, the gold, of the United States to pay for them.

The largest increases reported in importations of articles that are used in the food supplies of our people were in beef, corn, wheat, macaroni, fruits, molasses and edible oils, and it will be recognized by every business man that it would be far better for the United States if the entire supply required for our people's use would be produced on the farms of our own country.

Born yesterday afternoon to the wife of Samuel Finney, Jr., a boy.

Word from Denver, Colo., is to effect that Jefferson Churchill of this city, who is in a hospital there, is gradually sinking. No hope whatever is held out for his recovery.

LEE WILLIS BADLY HURT

Sustains Broken Arm in Fall From Haymow.

Lee Willis, a well known farmer living southwest of the city, was painfully injured this morning about eleven o'clock in a fall from the haymow at the barn on his farm. Mr. Willis sustained a broken arm and a badly bruised hip besides numerous other bruises. He was unconscious for several hours and for a time it was thought he was injured fatally. He was found on the floor of the barn some time after the accident. The supposition is that he became dizzy as he was coming from the mow and fell.

FEEL NO ALARM OVER U. S. MEN IN MEXICO

Army and Navy Departments Profess no Anxiety, but There is Undercurrent of Apprehension

HAVE TO KEEP CLOSE WATCH

(By United Press.)

Washington, June 13.—Surgeon General Brasted of the navy department professed no extraordinary anxiety over the health of American soldiers and sailors in Mexico. There was however, an undercurrent of apprehension in both war and navy departments.

"We have to keep close watch," said Dr. Brasted, "but I do not consider the situation alarming."

Other authorities frankly admitted they wished the boys might be in a higher altitude.

TWO MEN ON TRIP ACROSS CONTINENT

Left Allentown, Pa., Less Than Week
Age and Arrived Here Today on Journey to Coast.

LOOKING FOR EXPERIENCE

Two trans-continental hikers passed through this city this afternoon and attracted the attention of the downtown crowds. The two young men were Charles Seagraves and W. A. McGonigle, both age 21, and were hiking from Allentown, Pa., to San Francisco, Cal. The boys were dressed in Khaki uniforms and U. S. army shoes and knap sacks. According to the young men, they were walking merely for the experience of the trip, as there was no money to be gained.

Thus far they have made rapid progress, having left Allentown May 14, one month from tomorrow, and have covered the distance of 820 miles in that time. They expect to reach their destination on or even before Christmas, as they may make a stop-over in Arizona. They expected to reach Indianapolis tonight by eleven o'clock. In their possession they carried the signatures of the mayors of the cities through which they passed, and in some instances the mayor wrote a letter. Mayor Bebout wrote the two hikers a letter and gave it to them this afternoon, when they were in this city.

William Harves of Clarksburg who underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Sexton sanatorium Thursday afternoon is getting along nicely.

2 OTHER BANKS FAIL TO OPEN

State Bank of Calumet is Fifth Financial Institution to Fail
Since Yesterday Morning.

CROWDS SURGE ABOUT BANKS

Southwest Savings Bank, Also Allied With Lorimer Interests, Makes Sixth to be Closed.

(By United Press.)

Chicago, June 13.—Crowds of anxious depositors today surged about the four Lorimer banks whose $4,000,000 in deposits were tied up when state bank examiners took charge yesterday. They asked some assurance from the bank officials that their savings have not been swept away.

The LaSalle Street Trust and Savings bank, whose forced suspension was followed by the suspension of three small banks, stands in the center of the LaSalle street financial district. Police were busy ordering the crowd to move on today.

The state bank of Calumet, the fourth small institution affected, failed to open its doors today and was put in the hands of the examiner. Its deposits are less than $150,000.

The doors of the Southwest Savings banks also allied with the Lorimer interests, was closed today, making the sixth in all. Depositors who had been unable to withdraw money took involuntary bankrupt proceedings. Vice-president Munday of the Lorimer bank issued a statement saying every depositor of each of the banks would be paid in full.

MOVIE FILMS ARE BURNED

Storage Plant of Lubin Company is Destroyed Today.

(By United Press.)

Philadelphia, Pa., June 13.—Hundreds of thousands feet of moving picture films were destroyed today when fire caused by an explosion destroyed the storage vault of the plant of the Lubin Manufacturing company here. The front of ten adjoining houses were burned out as flames mounted high in the air. The 500 employees in the Lubin plant rushed to the street but scores of girls who became hysterical were prevented from jumping out of windows.

The Insurance Co-Operation

The life insurance men have caught the spirit of co-operation.

They are preparing a country wide advertising campaign to preach the reasons why life insurance is needed.

In this campaign the daily newspapers will be the chief medium used.

In each locality the men who sell life insurance will be primed to reap the harvest that will follow.

They will follow up the advertising in a way that will return a treasure of premiums.

What the life insurance men plan to do can be done by any other great interest.

MARKET EGGS BY PARCEL POST

This is Advice Which Experts in United States Department of Agriculture Offer.

THEY HAVE DEMONSTRATED IT

Experiment Show That of 9,131 Shipped in This Manner Only 3.6 Per Cent. Were Broken.

That eggs can be marketed successfully by parcel post and that this method frequently secures a better price for the producer and a fresher article for the consumer has now been demonstrated to the satis-

MRS. LYON'S AGES AND PAINS

Have All Gone Since Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Terre Hill, Pa.—"Kindly permit me to give you my testimonial in favor of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. When I first began taking it I was suffering from female troubles for some time and had almost all kinds of aches—pains in lower part of back and in sides, and pressing down pains. I could not sleep and had no appetite. Since I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound the aches and pains are all gone and I feel like a new woman. I cannot praise your medicine too highly."—Mrs. AUGUSTUS LYON, Terre Hill, Pa.

It is true that nature and a woman's work has produced the grandest remedy for woman's ills that the world has ever known. From the roots and herbs of the field, Lydia E. Pinkham, forty years ago, gave to womankind a remedy for their peculiar ills which has proved more efficacious than any other combination of drugs ever compounded, and today Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is recognized from coast to coast as the standard remedy for woman's ills.

In the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., are files containing hundreds of thousands of letters from women seeking health—many of them openly state over their own signatures that they have regained their health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; and in some cases that it has saved them from surgical operations.

faction of the experts in the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The Department conducted tests that covered a period of five months. At the end of that period it came to the conclusion that the parcel post was of particular value to the man whose flock was too small or who lives too far from express service to permit him to ship his eggs in the regular commercial case which holds 30 dozen eggs.

In the course of these experiments the Department shipped 9,131 eggs in 466 lots. Of these 327 or slightly less than 3.6 per cent were broken but only 209 or slightly less than 2.3 per cent were absolutely wasted. The others, though broken, could still be used. The percentage of breakage, moreover, will be greatly reduced, it is said, when the employees of the Post Office become more accustomed to handling such fragile material.

That the eggs should be properly packed is of course essential. This implies time, care and some expense and is one reason why no attempt should be made to market by parcel post any but the finest quality of eggs, for they alone will bring remunerative prices. Moreover, if the customer who buys in small lots finds that any considerable proportion of his purchases is undesirable or even unattractive in appearance, he will not trouble to ask for deductions on that account; he will simply discontinue his orders. The producer, therefore, must see to it that all the eggs the postman delivers are what he represents them to be.

This can be done by handling them. Candling. "The process of testing eggs by passing light through them so as to reveal the condition of the contents" is omitted by many producers who rely on care in collecting to eliminate all bad eggs. It is, however, impossible to avoid an occasional accident and candling is therefore advisable as an extra precaution. A simple outfit can be made out of a small hand lamp and an ordinary pasteboard box sufficiently large to be placed over the lamp, after the ends have been removed, without risk of fire. In order to supply air to the enclosed lamp, notch should be cut in the edge on which the box rests. A round hole is then cut in the box at the level of the lamp flame and the candling done by holding each egg against this hole while the rest of the room is in darkness. The light from the lamp reveals the contents of the egg and those that show any defect can be rejected.

If possible only infertile eggs should be sent to market. Fertile eggs deteriorate rapidly in warm weather and are the cause of much loss. A broody hen on the nest or accidental exposure to a high temperature may start incubation and cause the egg to spoil and injure the shipper's reputation. It is advisable, therefore, to retain the fertile eggs for home use or dispose of them in some other way than through the parcel post. This is also true of soiled eggs. Eggs should never be washed when intended for high-class trade, since the process removes a natural mucilaginous coating and opens the pores of the shell.

After this thorough elimination of the unfit, the eggs that remain should be carefully packed in a container of corrugated pasteboard, metal, wood or other suitable material. The post office regulations require this container to be so wrapped that nothing can escape from the package and each egg in addition to be wrapped separately in excelsior, cotton, or some such material. Any soft paper serves the purpose quite well. As for the container itself, there are many kinds on the market and the Department of Agriculture investigators have not attempted to decide which is the best. Instead they refer inquirers to the various State experiment stations which have available information on this question.

In packing eggs it is well to sort them as far as is practical according to size and color and to keep for home use those which are irregular in shape, unusually long or thin-shelled. Containers that have been badly stained by broken eggs should be replaced by new ones and the package wrapped as neatly as possible. In short every effort should be made to deliver as attractive a package as possible into the hands of the customers. The extra expense will be little and the returns in increased trade great.

The larger the shipments that the producers can arrange to make the cheaper can he afford to sell his eggs. Within the first and second zones of the parcel post service, a package costs five cents for the first pound and only one cent for each additional pound. Ordinarily eggs weigh about 1½ pounds a dozen, which with the additional weight of the wrapping and the container, would make a package of a dozen eggs weigh between two or three pounds. The postage on this would be 7 cents. If another dozen eggs were included in the package the postage would not be more than 9 cents, or 4½ instead of 7 cents a dozen eggs.

To the value of the eggs and the cost of postage must be added the cost of the container and the wrapping. For two dozen eggs this may be estimated at 8 cents. With postage at 9 cents, it would therefore, cost 17 cents to market two dozen eggs, or 8½ cents a dozen. By shipping in 10-dozen lots, it is estimated that the marketing cost can be reduced to 4.7 cents a dozen.

Where the container can be used more than once, this cost can of course be somewhat reduced. Large sized containers will stand from two to four trips, smaller ones three to five, so that it will pay the producer to induce his customer to return the containers periodically. The postage required for this is of course deducted from the bill for the next shipment.

Although it is obviously advantageous both to the producer and consumer that the eggs be shipped in large quantities and consequently economically, it must be remembered in taking orders that the supply of eggs undergoes the greatest fluctuations. In times of scarcity it is not good policy for the producer to send all his output to one customer, neglecting his other friends nor in times of plenty can he expect to dispose of his entire stock to his regular customers. These points must be given due consideration and the quantities that are to be supplied at each season of the year carefully stated in the contract. The price, too, varies with the supply. One good method of determining this is to take as a basis the wholesale price of eggs on the open market and add to this a certain number of cents a dozen for the new-laid parcel post eggs. Care should be taken, however, to see that there is no possibility of any misunderstanding arising in regard to the basis price. To obviate this, the quotations published in a given newspaper or some other similar authority may be accepted.

Eggs are scarcest and highest in the fall. Chickens should, therefore, be hatched early enough to begin laying at this season. Moreover little difficulty will be experienced then in disposing of the entire output and it will in consequence be unprofitable to divert any of the supply to home purposes. This difficulty can be overcome by preserving eggs in the spring, when they are plentiful and cheap. A solution of water glass which can be obtained at drug stores for 75 cents a gallon, should be used for this purpose, each quart being diluted with 10 quarts of water which has been boiled and cooled. The eggs should be packed in stone jars or crocks and the solution poured over them, or they may be carefully placed in the solution each day. Eggs kept in this way are perfectly good but naturally they do not command the prices of those newly-laid. The shells sometimes break in boiling, but this may be avoided by puncturing the end with a pin just before they are dropped into the water.

The only drawback to marketing eggs by parcel post appears to be the time and trouble involved in packing them. This is compensated for by the extra price that can always be obtained for products that are absolutely reliable. At bottom, therefore, the shipper's success depends upon the care with which he safeguards the reputation of his products. Satisfied customers will soon build up his business for him. Any Post Office will furnish complete information in regard to regulations and rates, and, as already stated, the several State Experiment stations have information in regard to the various types of shipping boxes. The results of the U. S. Government's investigation of the matter have been published in Farmers' Bulletin 594, of the Department of Agriculture, which will be sent free on request.

and have every style buggy known to the best vehicle builders in the country. We have large, roomy buggies that are low down and easy to get in and out of and then we have them for the young folks (we don't mean baby carriages) and middle aged people. In fact, we have buggies to meet every requirement of all kinds of buggy users. There is no use for us to tell you of their quality, perhaps you have already found that out by using one, or if not you can ask your neighbor and he will tell you how they wear. You take no chances when you buy from us because we guarantee every buggy we sell and guarantee it an honest one, and one that is always good. We believe that an honest guarantee gives us the good will of our customers and when a merchant loses the good will of his customers he is flirting with the commercial undertaker. Let us fit you out with your next buggy and you will always be glad you did it.

PEOPLES NATIONAL ON THE HONOR ROLL

Local Bank is Placed Seventh in State and First in County by New York Financier.

THE CONDITIONS UNDER IT

The Peoples National bank of this city has received a place on the roll of honor of the National banks of the United States. The roll of honor is a table prepared by the New York financier from statements made to the comptroller of the currency. To secure a place on the roll of honor a bank must show a surplus and undivided profits equal to or in excess of its capital stock—that is assuming the capital to be one hundred per cent., the profits and surplus must exceed that percentage.

The Peoples National bank is seventh in the state and first in Rush county. A roll of honor bank must have on hands, in the form of surplus and profits, an amount larger than its capital.

INTEREST SHOWN IN COURT OPINION

Decision in Arkansas Regarding Migratory Birds Will Not Effect Indiana Statute.

ONLY ONE CASE REPORTED

Indianapolis, Ind., June 13.—Hunters in Indiana were interested in the report from Little Rock, Ark., that the United States district court there had declared unconstitutional the federal migratory bird act. There has been one arrest under that act in Indiana. Frank Essmeister of Hammond was arrested by wardens who saw him shooting birds. Essmeister pleaded guilty and was fined.

District Attorney Dailey said today that if the federal legal department believed the law constitutional, the Arkansas law finally would go to the United States supreme court. He said no decision in the Arkansas case would affect Indiana unless the supreme court finally declared the law unconstitutional or it was decided not to make further arrests under the act.

The Arkansas court based its opinion on the theory that wild birds always had been considered the property of the states, and that even the inability of the states to enforce the law did not justify the courts in extending the powers of congress beyond those granted by the constitution.

The migratory bird act prevents the shooting of birds during certain migration season. Dailey said he believed the law a very good one but said he was not prepared to give an opinion on its validity.

TO HELP COLORED YOUTH

Commercial Club Will Give Aid Towards Musical Education

(By United Press.)

Richmond, Ind., June 13.—Welsey Howard, colored youth, has so attracted the attention of the Commercial club here that it is preparing a benefit for him. This colored boy is an accomplished violinist. He holds a full scholarship in the Boston Conservatory of Music, gained by the excellence of his work. Because he is poor, he has been sorely handicapped. The Commercial Club learned of his predicament and of his work and will the latter part of June or early in July give a benefit to collect money. It is hoped that the coming year he will not be forced, as in past years, to wait in cafes for his board and play at dances for his room.

The scene is an out-of-door cafe and is an exact likeness of one. The Cabaret orchestra is in charge of Merle Maupin, and is a feature of the show. Among the stunts which will be pulled off are parodies on the popular rag time. A chorus of forty voices has been selected by Miss Martha Hogsett, who has charge of the music. ## WHEAT HARVEST TO BEGIN SOON such as this the conditions depend to a certain extent on the prosperity of the farmers and large yields are the cause for general rejoicing.

Since it is early to make any predictions about the corn crop, it is difficult to tell just how the yield will be, but farmers are very optimistic about this crop and believe it will be a good year all around for the farm. The acreage is large and the corn has been benefited by the warm nights. It is said to be needing rain, but the drouth has not been hurtful yet.

The hay crop is coming along nicely. Many farmers will begin cutting clover next week. This crop is as good as could be expected, it is said, as is the timothy hay crop which will be ready for the harvest now very soon.

As usual the farmers are giving serious attention just now to the probable price of new wheat. While no quotation can yet be fixed it is believed that the price will start around eighty cents per bushel but will likely drop to seventy-five cents before much of the crop is sold. Old wheat is bringing ninety-three cents a bushel. It is said that some of the farmers who will have very large wheat crops will be satisfied with eighty cents. In fact one well-known farmer who will have thousands of bushels to market recently tried to enter into a contract with a local dealer for eighty cents but the offer was refused as it is believed that the price will drop several cents from the figure after the new crop is thrown on the market.

—St. Paul Methodist Episcopal church, A. D. Batchelor, pastor. Sunday school 9:15 a. m., Jas. Lock, superintendent. The pastor will preach at the morning service. Subject, "A Bag Filled With Holes." At 7:30 p. m., the annual Children's Day exercises will be given, and the usual collection for education will be taken. Mrs. Will Amos will sing a solo at the morning service.

—All parents desiring to have their children christened tomorrow in connection with the celebration of Children's Day at the St. Paul Methodist church are requested to present the children for baptism at the beginning of the morning service, at 10:30 o'clock.

Extravagances.

The charge that the Democratic state administration is extravagant has never been proved more clearly than by the figures just given out from the offices of the state board of charities regarding the cost of maintaining the state institutions for the six months ending last March 31. The charge of extravagance is the leading issue of the campaign in Indiana and early developments indicate that the Republicans can prove their assertions.

Never before in the history of the Hoosier domain has so much money been paid out of the state coffers for salaries. Likewise never before were the state institutions operated at such an expense to the taxpayers of Indiana. When it so happens, through the mismanagement of affairs and the "keeping" of politicians on the state payroll, that the state is spending more money for inmates, as is the case right now, it is about time that a stop be arranged. There is no doubt but that a continuance of Democratic rule will mean a continuance of these extravagances which cropped out even in Governor Marshall's term in office preceding Governor Ralston's.

These figures, which were published a few days ago, show that the total cost of maintaining the seventeen state institutions for the six months mentioned amounted to $1,321,262.54. The total enrollment of inmates was 12,623.

The figures show that more money was paid out for salaries and wages of employees than for either food, clothing, repairs, office, domestic or outdoor departments. The average cost of maintenance per inmate for six months was $112.80. Of this amount $38.68 was paid out for salaries and wages; $31.85 for office, domestic and outdoor departments; $30.74 for food; $7.09 for ordinary repairs and $4.44 for clothing.

It cost nearly $8 an inmate more to pay the salaries and wages of the employees than it did for food for the inmates.

This staggering showing is further of importance because of the fact that the army of employees of these institutions is recruited largely from the ranks of political workers, and since the Democratic machine took charge of course, machine workers and heelers have had the call on the appointments to these jobs. This vast number of jobs affords a fine opportunity for the machine to strengthen itself in many parts of the state, for employees for all of these institutions may be picked from any county in the state.

Although Rushville has a traffic ordinance, not many drivers of vehicles seem to be aware of it. A corner policeman at Second and Main streets would help a lot. It appears that it will be a matter of education again.

Was it a Threat?

The other day Donald Powers, little son of Mrs. Lillian Powers, had been playing with blocks. He had them piled up in good fashion when a man with whom Donald was well acquainted kicked them over. Repeatedly Donald piled them up and the man knocked them down. Finally Donald expressed himself in this manner: "Look out now! Don't kick them over again. I'm not feeling well today."

Woddy Mean; Roosters?

No doubt it takes all sorts of people to make a world, but how's a person to tolerate the fellow who sits through a movie with a cud of tobacco in his mouth and is unable to express his satisfaction of disapproval?

We ought to be thankful for a kind providence that makes possible the dancing teacher. Without them we would have no tango, and therefore nothing to fuss over or rave about.

Enter the center at a gallop, according to an edict of the dancing masters meeting at Chicago this week. It appears that farmer's son who just graduated and wouldn't make a horse of himself in the hayfield will be willing to do it on the dance floor just for fashion's sake.

This is the day, kid, this is the day when the spirits rise—or in the vulgar vernacular, when the ghost walks.

From a remark "Jim" Watson dropped—yes, dropped that's what we meant to say—we have a hunch that he has some knowledge of the fact that we are perpetrating this rot on an indulgent public. Harry Veddern, Who Pitched Here Last Year, Will be in the Box for Cincinnati Marrons

When the Arcadians take the field Sunday afternoon against the Cincinnati Marrons, the team should be the best that has represented this city this year. The management has switched the lineup and added two new players and the change is expected to prove a winner. The lineup will probably remain as it now is the rest of the season.

The only thing bothering Manager Fisher is a pitcher. Laddy Link has not definitely decided whether he will come or not but the management has given a good proposition but still holds out. He is under the impression that the management has no pitcher and is trying to hold the management up for too much money.

A pitcher named Merz, of Cincinnati, will be here and in case Link does not come he will pitch. Merz has been pitching in the Virginia state league and comes highly recommended. He is right handed and according to the word received should make good here. With either Merz or Link pitching the rest of the team will lineup as follows: Mattern, catch; Bridges, first; Queisser, second; Spellman, short; Johannes, third; Pierce, left; Tompkins, center and Miller, right.

The Marrons are considered one of the best road teams out of Cincinnati and are coming here expecting to win. The game should be a battle. Harry Veddern, who pitched for Rushville late last year will be in the box for the Marrons. The Arcadians will have a hard time beating himself he goes good. Veddern will have a fast team behind him. The Marrons will lineup as follows: Nippert, left field; Limes, first; Hertz, second; Moelling, short; Kanis, third; Windrum, center; Bilger, right; Ourseler, catch and Veddern, pitch.

The game will be called at two-thirty o'clock and Snyder will umpire.

BEVERIDGE GOT COOL RECEPTION

He and Party Went in Direction of Band and Found it Wasn't for Them at District Rally

MEETING AT KENDALLVILLE

No Decorated Coach or Reception Committee at Depot and Had to Take a Taxi—Some Parade

The following dispatch from Kendallville to the Huntington Herald tells of the cool reception Beveridge and a party of Progressive politicians received at a twelfth district rally Wednesday:

Albert Jeremiah Beveridge, former Republican now chief Bull Moose, drafted for the Hoosier Bull Moose, got about as warm a reception here Wednesday at a free exhibition as did "Doc" Cook at some of his chautauqua bills, where admissions were charged. Some heat attended the visit of Beveridge to Kendallville, and it was not entirely attributed to climatic conditions.

Beveridge's coming had been extensively advertised as the headliner for the Twelfth district convention for Bull Moosers. He passed through Fort Wayne en route and there was joined by Charlie Bash and other lights from Allen county. In his party were E. C. Toner, of Anderson, W. D. Hedrick of Indianapolis, and several others slated to appear as boosters for the waning cause.

When the train from the south arrived, not a soul appeared to give the distinguished gentlemen the Moose greeting. Beveridge looked about the platform askance and his characteristic frown appeared, disclosing his displeasure. He had a right in his own mind to expect more. Others in the party also looked about awry and hoped for an early appearance of a brass band and a decorated coach. None appeared, the party jumped into a taxi and the meter rate began.

Off in a distance a brassy blare of a town band became audible. Beveridge stuck his head out of the door and yelled to the driver:

"Where's that band?"

"Around at the Kelly hotel" came the response.

"Take us to the Kelly house, that's where we're a going then," directed the chief Moose.

As the taxi pulled up at the hotel Toner jumped out and noticed the band moving away. He pushed into the hotel and asked the clerk whither the band boys were marching.

"To the depot," said the astonished clerk.

"Stop them! Stop them!" yelled the spokesman. "They don't need to go, we're here!"

"Oh, you don't have to worry; they're going to meet the southbound train as a reception committee to the girls' band from Shipshewanna," and the spokesman remembered that it was a warm day and melting was in order.

He sidled out of the hotel and a hurried canvass of the town was made for somebody in authority to convey the august information that Mr. Beveridge had arrived; was already in town and ready to be made a fuss over and bask in the pleasure of exalted recognition. He has long been used to such public courtesies and it was quite apparent he was much disgusted that an oversight had been permitted.

This fall down on the part of the reception committee took much of the starch out of Beveridge, although others of his party sought to bolster up the later happenings of the day to lend a tinge of enthusiasm to the general atmosphere. But Beveridge was "hot" and in no mood to explode elaborately on his favorite themes. Others had to stir up the necessary thunder to get satisfactory mention in the Fort Wayne Journal-Gazette.

The Moose's (singular number) parade was a "frost" for such a warm and bright day. Only between forty and fifty joined in the march behind the dejected Moose leader.

The big feature of the meeting was naming H. M. Widney, of St. Joe, to make the race for congress in the Twelfth district. Then came the fireworks. Several speeches added to the day's depression. What verbal heat was lacking, the weatherman supplemented.

A remarkable feature of the session was the repeated declaration by the speakers against amalgamation, despite the fact that this now ancient proposition long ago was passed into the silent deck as an unnecessary deal.

Republicans of the Twelfth district are optimistic over the outlook. The great number of Progressives who voted their protest against "standpatism" two years ago, apparently believe great good has been done in the way of a house-cleaning and they are back to stand for a strong party front to wage conflict for a correction of present and growing Democratic evils.

It is freely expressed that the Beveridge meeting of Wednesday did not a speck of good, but released many former converts to the "faith" in Moosism, and they are now out in the open to vote for abolition of free trade and in behalf of progressive Republican principles, seeking a return of general prosperity.

MANY GOOD RIDERS ENTERED IN RACES

Chief Interest in Motorcycle Event

Centered on Match Race Between Baker and Hoffstatter

EXPECT TO MAKE FAST TIME

Indianapolis, June 13.—Many of the best motorcycle riders in the middle west were entered this afternoon in the motorcycle races at the state fair grounds. Probably most interest centered in an exhibition race between E. G. Baker and Roy Hoffstatter. Baker is probably the best known racer in the country just now, due to his recent feat in capturing the transcontinental record. He rode from San Diego to New York in 11 days, 12 hours and 10 minutes.

Over the best mile track in the state, the racers were expected to average over 70 miles an hour. Last year the ten-mile race was won at the rate of a mile in 50 seconds. There will be four races aside from the Baker-Hoffstatter contest. They are the 5 and 10-mile races for stock cars and 10 and 25-mile open races. Cash prizes totalled $120.

MINERS ARE STRONG FOR JACK DILLON

But Dope on Tonight's Fight Has Them Guessing and it Should be Real Battle

IS BOOKED FOR MANY FIGHTS

(By United Press.)

Butte, Mont., June 13.—Miners in this section who have developed a fondness for Jack Dillon, the Hoosier brawler, and who like to see him kick, were wondering today just what he would be able to do with Bob Moha of Milwaukee tonight. Some of them were a bit dubious over their favorite's chances, for they remembered reading of the awful walloping Moha gave Battling Levinsky in Wisconsin some months ago. They also remembered seeing Dillon win a decision over Levinsky here, "due to the altitude," according to Levinsky. Dillon was to weigh in at 163 today, his best fighting weight, and Moha was expected to tip the beam at about 10 pounds heavier.

Following tonight's fight Dillon will take up in rapid succession Young Weinert, New York, June 23; Jack Herriek, Memphis, June 29; Al Norton, Kansas City, July 4; Knockout Brown, Terre Haute, July 19; Dillon says he signed for all these bouts.

NEW PRESIDENT TO BE SELECTED

Believed Certain Today Provisional Head of Mexico Will be Named Almost Immediately

HUERTA WILL BE OUT SOON

Administration Feels Sure Carranza Will Agree to Plan Backed by This Government.

BY JOHN E. NEVIN

Washington, June 13.—The new provisional president of Mexico will be selected almost immediately, is believed certain here today. Substantial progress already made has caused the belief that by the middle of next week Huerta will be out.

The administration is absolutely confident Carranza will agree to the tentative plan backed by this government and that fighting will end as soon as Huerta has formally turned over the presidential authority to the provisional government.

The chief jarring notes come from the paid junta maintained by the Constitutionalists. These men, including professional promoters of revolutions, insist that Carranza can not make any concessions as he already has won control of most of Mexico "by right of might."

EDITORS END MEETING TODAY

Visit Centennial at New Harmony Following Meeting at Grave of Lincoln's Mother.

TRIBUTE PAID BY SPEAKERS

Boat Ride on Ohio River is Featured by Banquet on Return Trip—Politics Discussed.

New Harmony, Ind., June 13.—The closing feature of the midsummer meeting of Indiana Republican Editorial association was the attendance today at the centennial which is being celebrated here. The editors were all to depart for their homes late this evening.

Tonight will mark an epoch in the life of New Harmony. The main feature of the centennial will be the pageant of the founding of the town, written by Miss Charity Dye of Indianapolis. It is to be produced by a cast of 500 persons. Posey county day was celebrated yesterday and five thousand people attended.

Yesterday two hundred editors journeyed by special train to Lincoln City to pay tribute to the mother of Abraham Lincoln over her grave. Afterwards the editor took a boat ride down the Ohio river to see the government dam under construction at Henderson, Ky.

On the return trip up the Ohio a banquet was served and for the first time during the day politics was discussed. James E. Watson and Charles W. Fairbanks spoke. Applause greeted criticism of the Wilson administration and the new tariff law.

The exercises at Lincoln City were unusual and prominent men who have traveled under all kinds of conditions declared they have never been so deeply touched by any program. Oratory that stirred the editors to tears was heard as Lincoln's virtues were extolled and frequently the audience was convulsed with laughter as some of the speakers recalled incidents of his sharp humor.

The subject of politics was forgotten. Many of the speakers declared it would be a desecration of the nation's most sacred memories to inject partisanship into the program. War veterans living near the beautifully shaded park in which Nancy Hanks Lincoln lies buried and who have attended all the exercises ever conducted there said that never before had so many notable addresses been delivered there upon one occasion. They also declared there never had so much genuine oratory been heard under the old oak, walnut and maple trees that form a canopy over the grave of the emancipator's mother.

Two former Governors, a former Vice President and the Governor of East Aurora, N. Y., in the person of Elbert Hubbard, were present, addresses being delivered by Charles Warren Fairbanks, Mr. Hubbard, former Governor Durbin of Indiana and former Governor Wilson of Kentucky. Former Governor Yates of Illinois had been invited to speak, but was not present.

Arriving at the park surrounding the grave, the editors stood with bared heads as they read the simple tombstone: "Here lies Nancy Hanks Lincoln, who died at the age of 35 years."

SUFFRAGE IS ENDORSED

Leaders Win Unanimous Vote at Federation Meeting at Chicago.

Chicago, June 13.—"Votes For Women" was endorsed by an almost unanimous vote today by the convention of a General Federation of Women's clubs. The suffrage resolution was adopted by a viva voce vote with scarcely any opposition. Suffrage cheers filled the auditorium and suffrage leaders lead the convention in singing "Hallelujah."

ELKS' LINE-UP IS ANNOUNCED

Marrieds and Singles are Arranged "on Paper" for Big Benefit Game Next Friday

TICKETS ARE SELLING FAST

Entries in "Fat Men's Race" Are Made Public and Official Starter is Named

Tickets for the Elks benefit baseball game which will be played at the ball park next Friday afternoon are going like "hot cakes" just off the griddle in January. According to reports which have been made, over half of those which have been placed on sale have been sold. All they have to do is simply ask their friends "how many?" It is believed another issue will have to be printed the first of next week in order to supply the demand.

Today for the first time the line-up was made known. The Marrieds and Singles will cross bats, and judging from the personnel of the two teams, it will be a battle royal. So much interest is attached to the coming contest that every one is talking about it and boosting for their respective team.

The boys have already had considerable practice and it is reported today that some of the old-time stars are showing up well and will most undoubtedly come back and surprise the populace with their thrilling plays. J. B. Kinsinger and Frank M. Sparks declare they can hit the ball as well as ever because their batting eye is not impaired in the least.

Here's the line-up. Now take your choice:

Singles—Frank Lawrence, c.; Scott Buell, p.; Melvin Moore, 1st.; Edwin Gartin, 2d.; Dr. Coleman, ss.; Posey Denning, 3d.; Allen H. Blackledge, l. f.; Walter Capp, C. F.; G. P. Hunt, R. F. Utility List—Hale Pearsey, Charles G. Offutt, Wm. B. Brann, Albert Capp, Harry Beale, manager and pinch hitter.

Marrieds—Walter Rheinheimer, r. f.; Theodore Reed, 1st.; W. F. Easley, c. f.; Will Bliss, l. f.; Charles Green, s. s.; J. B. Kinsinger, 2d.; Frank Sparks, 3d.; C. L. Bebout, p.; Harry Wyatt, c. Utility List—Carl Gunning, Herb Innis, Will Winship, Charles J. Offutt, Wm. E. Havens, Manager.

Dora Betker has been selected as referee and Clarence Cross, starter in the "fat men's race."

Charles H. Brown, assistant postmaster, who is booking the list of entries, reports the following names and says the entries will close next Monday evening at six o'clock.

Charles H. Brown, Percy Walker, W. M. Garrigus, Homer Powell, Verne Norris, F. N. Lightfoot, Dora N. Hilligoss, E. B. Lowden.

The fat boys will take some light practice every evening, commencing Monday, when their first run will be made to Milroy and return after supper. Some of the "spirts" among the Elks have posted some side bets on their favorite, and there will certainly be some coaching among the trainers and "rubbers" who have charge of their respective runners.

WHEAT HARVEST TO BEGIN SOON

Probable That Some Fields Will be Entered With a Binder by Next Week, Farmers Say.

RIPENED RAPIDLY OF LATE

In Spite of Early Reports of Hessian Fly, This Parasite Will Not Cause Damage.

Wheat harvest will begin in Rush county next week, it is believed, because the warm weather of the last week ripened the wheat rapidly. The new crop will begin to come into local market by the latter part of the month.

As the time for the harvest approaches, the more certain it is that the crop will be a record breaker. In spite of the early reports that Hessian fly had damaged the wheat, the fields are in good condition. It is the general belief that the crop will be the largest grown in Rush county in many years and that the yield will be larger.

The Hessian fly has appeared in some places, but the damage it did was not great. In some fields the stalks were weakened by the fly, but no serious results will be noted unless a strong wind should blow before the harvest because the weakened stalks would be unable to withstand it.

As a whole the farmers are happy over the prospect of a good crop and are expecting excellent results. Some farmers anticipate storing their wheat with the expectation of a higher price prevailing after harvest. All of the wheat crop is not sold just as soon as it is harvested by any means. Because of the large crop this year the general conditions prevalent, it is likely that more of the crop will be sold at harvest this year than formerly.

Since wheat is one of the principal crops in Rush county, a big yield means much to the farmers of the county and consequently to the community. In agricultural communities

CROP PROSPECTS IN STATE BRIGHT

Harvest Will be Largest in History of Indiana, it is Believed From Best Estimates.

CORN IS NEARLY PERFECT

Indianapolis, Ind., June 13.—Reports gathered today from many parts of the state all tended to show that crop conditions in Indiana are the best in years. The conclusion is that the harvest will be one of the largest in Indiana's history. It already has begun in the southwestern part of the state.

The stand of corn through the state is said to be near perfection. Hot weather that has caused human suffering was a great benefit. The dry weather enabled farmers to cultivate to the last moment, but it hurt the oats.

The call for harvest laborers from the west has brought response here. Groups of men in twenties and thirties have been shipped by employment agencies for several weeks. An average of ten men a day have gone into Iowa from Indiana.

F. M. HINTON DEAD IN ARLINGTON

Aged Resident Passed Away Following Several Weeks' Illness From Heart Disease.

WIDOW AND SIX CHILDREN

Francis M. Hinton, 74 years old, died this morning at eight-thirty o'clock at his home in Arlington, after a several weeks' illness from heart disease and dropsy. Mr. Hinton had been in a serious condition for several days and because of his advanced age death was expected. For many years he lived south of Arlington but for some time had been a resident of Arlington.

He is survived by his widow and six children, two daughters and four sons. The funeral services will be conducted Monday afternoon at two o'clock at the late residence. Burial will take place in the Arlington East Hill cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Maxey went to Milroy this morning to attend the funeral of W. B. Richey.

DOES IT APPLY TO POSTOFFICE?

Much Speculation as to Whether Order Giving Half Holiday is Effective Here.

PRESIDENT HAS SIGNED IT

Declared at Local Office That Such Action Would be Impractical For all Employees.

Much speculation has been indulged in at the postoffice since the publication of a dispatch from Washington that says President Wilson has affixed his signature to an executive order providing that federal employees shall work but four hours on Saturday between June 15 and September 15. They are fully aware that they are federal employees but are wondering if the order providing for the half-holiday on Saturday during the summer months applied to them.

Apparently the order is broad in its effect as the dispatch says that federal employees "whatever stationed" shall be required to work only four hours on Saturday during the time specified. No official notice has been sent to this time and for this reason the local employees are doubtful if the new provisions apply to clerks and carriers in offices of this size. Some believe that the order provides a half holiday only for the employees at Washington but such a regulation would hardly be issued at this time as that rule has been in force at the capital for some time. Also the phrase "wherever stationed" would probably have not been used if only the Washington City employees were to be benefited.

There is a likelihood that the full order is not quoted in the dispatch from the capital and that some restricting clause which places an entirely different construction on the meaning has been omitted. If the order does include the employees of the local office a notice to that effect will soon be received. The clerks and carriers have frequently suggested that a half holiday be granted them on Saturday during the summer months and the question has been discussed at their conventions.

If the order is general and includes all offices throughout the country it will be necessary to prepare a new schedule for the collection and delivery of mail on Saturday afternoon. This matter has been given no consideration by Postmaster Hunt as the official bulletin has not reached him.

Employees of the postoffice declare it would be very impracticable if the order does apply to the postoffice department, especially for rural mail carriers. Very few of them could drive over their route and deliver all of their mail in four hours. It is further pointed out that mail has to be dispatched on time every day in the week.

ENQUIRER ON THE NEW TARIFF

Cincinnati Newspaper, Long Democratic, Wonders Why Food Isn't Produced Here.

PRINTS TELLING EDITORIAL

Calls Attention to Decreased Exports and Increased Imports. Under Democratic Law.

Many people here have wondered at the editorial which the Cincinnati Enquirer, a Democratic newspaper that has always advocated a low tariff, published this week. The Enquirer calls attention to the large amount of gold that has gone out of the country and to the decreased exports and increased imports since the Democratic tariff bill went into effect. The Enquirer wonders why the people of the United States cannot produce the foodstuff which the people of the United States consume. The editorial follows:

Gold continues to depart from this country, and while as yet there is no financial stringency occasioned by its leaving our shores, yet it would make affairs brighter if it remained with us.

Bankers with foreign connections say that selling of our securities here by foreign investors who need cash is the principal reason for the gold going out, and they predict that this action will continue to draw gold from the United States.

Since January 1 the shipments of gold from this country amounted to upward of $37,000,000, and everything points to the shipment of several additional millions before the export ceases.

The large increase in value of our imports in April, accompanied, as it was, by large decrease in value of our exports, as compared with April, 1913, marks a change in financial operations that calls for attention by the Government, as well as by the business men of the country.

One month, or two, or three of these results will not injure or disturb business, but a series of such increases and fallings off would surely result in still greater demands from Europe upon our gold supply.

It is essential to good times in this country that our trade balances abroad be heavily in our favor.

It is not pleasant reading, with our productive country, embracing such a range of latitude and climate conditions favorable for growing foodstuffs, to find our exports of such products decreasing and our importations of them rising rapidly in amounts and value.

The first six months of the new tariff, as reported by the Department of Commerce, show these results, and these heavy importations of foodstuffs will undoubtedly call for the cash, the gold, of the United States to pay for them.

The largest increases reported in importations of articles that are used in the food supplies of our people were in beef, corn, wheat, macaroni, fruits, molasses and edible oils, and it will be recognized by every business man that it would be far better for the United States if the entire supply required for our people's use would be produced on the farms of our own country.

LEE WILLIS BADLY HURT

Sustains Broken Arm in Fall From Haymow.

Lee Willis, a well known farmer living southwest of the city, was painfully injured this morning about eleven o'clock in a fall from the haymow at the barn on his farm. Mr. Willis sustained a broken arm and a badly bruised hip besides numerous other bruises. He was unconscious for several hours and for a time it was thought he was injured fatally. He was found on the floor of the barn some time after the accident. The supposition is that he became dizzy as he was coming from the mow and fell.

FEEL NO ALARM OVER U. S. MEN IN MEXICO

Army and Navy Departments Profess No Anxiety, but There is Undercurrent of Apprehension

HAVE TO KEEP CLOSE WATCH

(By United Press.)

Washington, June 13.—Surgeon General Brasted of the navy department professed no extraordinary anxiety over the health of American soldiers and sailors in Mexico. There was however, an undercurrent of apprehension in both war and navy departments.

"We have to keep close watch," said Dr. Brasted, "but I do not consider the situation alarming."

Other authorities frankly admitted they wished the boys might be in a higher altitude.

TWO MEN ON TRIP ACROSS CONTINENT

Left Allentown, Pa., Less Than Week Ago and Arrived Here Today on Journey to Coast.

LOOKING FOR EXPERIENCE

Two trans-continental hikers passed through this city this afternoon and attracted the attention of the downtown crowds. The two young men were Charles Seagraves and W. A. McGonigle, both age 21, and were hiking from Allentown, Pa., to San Francisco, Cal. The boys were dressed in Khaki uniforms and U. S. army shoes and knap sacks. According to the young men, they were walking merely for the experience of the trip, as there was no money to be gained.

Thus far they have made rapid progress, having left Allentown May 14, one month from tomorrow, and have covered the distance of 820 miles in that time. They expect to reach their destination on or even before Christmas, as they may make a stop-over in Arizona. They expected to reach Indianapolis tonight by eleven o'clock. In their possession they carried the signatures of the mayors of the cities through which they passed, and in some instances the mayor wrote a letter. Mayor Bebout wrote the two hikers a letter and gave it to them this afternoon, when they were in this city.

William Harves of Clarksburg who underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Sexton sanatorium Thursday afternoon is getting along nicely.

2 OTHER BANKS FAIL TO OPEN

State Bank of Calumet is Fifth Financial Institution to Fail Since Yesterday Morning.

CROWDS SURGE ABOUT BANKS

Southwest Savings Bank, Also Allied With Lorimer Interests, Makes Sixth to be Closed.

(By United Press.)

Chicago, June 13.—Crowds of anxious depositors today surged about the four Lorimer banks whose $4,000,000 in deposits were tied up when state bank examiners took charge yesterday. They asked some assurance from the bank officials that their savings have not been swept away.

The LaSalle Street Trust and Savings bank, whose forced suspension was followed by the suspension of three small banks, stands in the center of the LaSalle street financial district. Police were busy ordering the crowd to move on today.

The state bank of Calumet, the fourth small institution affected, failed to open its doors today and was put in the hands of the examiner. Its deposits are less than $150,000.

The doors of the Southwest Savings bank also allied with the Lorimer interests, was closed today, making the sixth in all. Depositors who had been unable to withdraw money took involuntary bankrupt proceedings. Vice-president Munday of the Lorimer bank issued a statement saying every depositor of each of the banks would be paid in full.

MOVIE FILMS ARE BURNED

Storage Plant of Lubin Company is Destroyed Today.

(By United Press.)

Philadelphia, Pa., June 13.—Hundreds of thousands feet of moving picture films were destroyed today when fire caused by an explosion destroyed the storage vault of the plant of the Lubin Manufacturing company here. The front of ten adjoining houses were burned out as flames mounted high in the air. The 500 employees in the Lubin plant rushed to the street but scores of girls who became hysterical were prevented from jumping out of windows.

The Insurance Co-Operation

The life insurance men have caught the spirit of co-operation.

They are preparing a country wide advertising campaign to preach the reasons why life insurance is needed.

In this campaign the daily newspapers will be the chief medium used.

In each locality the men who sell life insurance will be primed to reap the harvest that will follow.

They will follow up the advertising in a way that will return a treasure of premiums.

What the life insurance men plan to do can be done by any other great interest.

MRS. LYON'S ACHES AND PAINS

Have All Gone Since Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Terre Hill, Pa.—"Kindly permit me to give you my testimonial in favor of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. When I first began taking it I was suffering from female troubles for some time and had almost all kinds of aches—pains in lower part of back and in sides, and pressing down pains. I could not sleep and had no appetite. Since I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound the aches and pains are all gone and I feel like a new woman. I cannot praise your medicine too highly."—Mrs.
AUGUSTUS LYON, Terre Hill, Pa.

It is true that nature and a woman's work has produced the greatest remedy for woman's ills that the world has ever known. From the roots and herbs of the field, Lydia E. Pinkham, forty years ago, gave to womankind a remedy for their peculiar ills which has proved more efficacious than any other combination of drugs ever compounded, and today Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is recognized from coast to coast as the standard remedy for woman's ills.

In the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., are files containing hundreds of thousands of letters from women seeking health—many of them openly state over their own signatures that they have regained their health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; and in some cases that it has saved them from surgical operations.

every requirement of all kinds of buggy users. There is no use for us to tell you of their quality, perhaps you have already found that out by using one, or if not you can ask your neighbor and he will tell you how they wear. You take no chances when you buy from us because we guarantee every honest guarantee gives us the good will of our customers and when a merchant loses the good will of

WILL SPIVEY at Oneal Bros.

faction of the experts in the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The Department conducted tests that covered a period of five months. At the end of that period it came to the conclusion that the parcel post was of particular value to the man whose flock was too small or who lives too far from express service to permit him to ship his eggs in the regular commercial case which holds 30 dozen eggs.

In the course of these experiments
the Department shipped 9,131 eggs in 466 lots. Of these 327 or slightly less than 3.6 per cent were broken but only 209 or slightly less than 2.3
per cent were absolutely wasted.
The others, though broken, could still be used. The percentage of breakage, moreover, will be greatly reduced, it is said, when the employees of the Post Office become more accustomed to handling such fragile matter.

That the eggs should be properly packed is of course essential. This implies time, care and some expense and is one reason why no attempt should be made to market by parcel post any but the finest quality of eggs, for they alone will bring remunerative prices. Moreover, if the customer who buys in small lots finds that any considerable proportion of his purchases is undesirable or even unattractive in appearance, he will not trouble to ask for deductions on that account; he will simply discontinue his orders. The producer, therefore, must see to it that all the eggs the postman delivers are what he represents them to be.

This can be done by candling them.
Candling. "The process of testing eggs by passing light through them so as to reveal the condition of the contents" is omitted by many producers who rely on care in collecting to eliminate all bad eggs. It is, however, impossible to avoid an occasional accident and candling is therefore advisable as an extra precaution. A simple outfit can be made out of a small hand lamp and an ordinary pasteboard box sufficiently large to be placed over the lamp, after the ends have been removed, without risk of fire. In order to supply air to the enclosed lamp, notch should be cut in the edge on which the box rests. A round hole is then cut in the box at the level of the lamp flame and the candling done by holding each egg against this hole while the rest of the room is in darkness. The light from the lamp reveals the contents of the egg and those that show any defect can be rejected.

If possible only infertile eggs should be sent to market. Fertile eggs deteriorate rapidly in warm weather and are the cause of much loss. A broody hen on the nest or accidental exposure to a high temperature may start incubation and cause the egg to spoil and injure the shipper's reputation. It is advisable, therefore, to retain the fertile eggs for home use or dispose of them in some other way than through the parcel post. This is also true of soiled eggs. Eggs should never be washed when intended for high-class trade, since the process removes a natural mucilaginous coating and opens the pores of the shell.

After this thorough elimination of the unfit, the eggs that remain should be carefully packed in a container of corrugated pasteboard, metal,
wood or other suitable material.
The post office regulations require this container to be so wrapped that nothing can escape from the package and each egg in addition to be wrapped separately in excelsior, cotton, or some such material. Any soft paper serves the purpose quite well. As for the container itself, there are many kinds on the market and the Department of Agriculture investigators have not attempted to decide which is the best. Instead they refer inquirers to the various State experiment stations which have available information on this question.

In packing eggs it is well to sort them as far as is practical according to size and color and to keep for home use those which are irregular in shape, unusually long or thin-shelled. Containers that have been badly stained by broken eggs should be replaced by new ones and the package wrapped as neatly as possible. In short every effort should be made to deliver as attractive a package as possible into the hands of the customers. The extra expense will be little and the returns in increased trade great.

The larger the shipments that the producers can arrange to make the cheaper can he afford to sell his eggs. Within the first and second zones of the parcel post service, a package costs five cents for the first pound and only one cent for each additional pound. Ordinarily eggs weigh about 1 1/2 pounds a dozen, which with the additional weight of the wrapping and the container, would make a package of a dozen eggs weigh between two or three pounds. The postage on this would be 7 cents. If another dozen eggs were included in the package the postage would not be more than 9 cents, or 4 1/2 instead of 7 cents a dozen eggs.

To the value of the eggs and the cost of postage must be added the cost of the container and the wrapping. For two dozen eggs this may be estimated at 8 cents. With postage at 9 cents, it would therefore cost 17 cents to market two dozen eggs, or 8 1/2 cents a dozen. By shipping in 10-dozen lots, it is estimated that the marketing cost can be reduced to 4.7 cents a dozen.

Where the container can be used more than once, this cost can of course be somewhat reduced. Large sized containers will stand from two to four trips, smaller ones three to five, so that it will pay the producer to induce his customer to return the containers periodically. The postage required for this is of course deducted from the bill for the next shipment.

Although it is obviously advantageous both to the producer and consumer that the eggs be shipped in large quantities and consequently economically, it must be remembered in taking orders that the supply of eggs undergoes the greatest fluctuations. In times of scarcity it is not good policy for the producer to send all his output to one customer, neglecting his other friends nor in times of plenty can he expect to dispose of his entire stock to his regular customers. These points must be given due consideration and the quantities that are to be supplied at each season of the year carefully stated in the contract. The price, too, varies with the supply. One good method of determining this is to take as a basis the wholesale price of eggs on the open market and add to this a certain number of cents a dozen for the new-laid parcel post eggs. Care should be taken, however, to see that there is no possibility of any misunderstanding arising in regard to the basis price. To obviate this, the quotations published in a given newspaper or some other similar authority may be accepted.

Eggs are scarcest and highest in the fall. Chickens should, therefore, be hatched early enough to begin laying at this season. Moreover little difficulty will be experienced then in disposing of the entire output and it will in consequence be unprofitable to divert any of the supply to home purposes. This difficulty can be overcome by preserving eggs in the spring, when they are plentiful and cheap. A solution of water glass which can be obtained at drug stores for 75 cents a gallon, should be used for this purpose, each quart being diluted with 10 quarts of water which has been boiled and cooled. The eggs should be packed in stone jars or crocks and the solution poured over them, or they may be carefully placed in the solution each day.
Eggs kept in this way are perfectly good but naturally they do not command the prices of those newly-laid.
The shells sometimes break in boiling,
but this may be avoided by puncturing the end with a pin just before they are dropped into the water.

The only drawback to marketing eggs by parcel post appears to be the time and trouble involved in packing them. This is compensated for by the extra price that can always be obtained for products that are absolutely reliable. At bottom, therefore, the shipper's success depends upon the care with which he safeguards the reputation of his products. Satisfied customers will soon build up his business for him. Any Post Office will furnish complete information in regard to regulations and rates, and,
as already stated, the several State Experiment stations have information in regard to the various types of shipping boxes. The results of the U. S. Government's investigation of the matter have been published in Farmers' Bulletin 594, of the Department of Agriculture, which will be sent free on request.

PEOPLES NATIONAL ON THE HONOR ROLL

Local Bank is Placed Seventh in State and First in County by New York Financier.

THE CONDITIONS UNDER IT

The Peoples National bank of this city has received a place on the roll of honor of the National banks of the United States. The roll of honor is a table prepared by the New York financier from statements made to the comptroller of the currency. To secure a place on the roll of honor a bank must show a surplus and undivided profits equal to or in excess of its capital stock—that is assuming the capital to be one hundred per cent., the profits and surplus must exceed that percentage.

The Peoples National bank is seventh in the state and first in Rush county. A roll of honor bank must have on hands, in the form of surplus and profits, an amount larger than its capital.

INTEREST SHOWN IN COURT OPINION

Decision in Arkansas Regarding Migratory Birds Will Not Effect Indiana Statute.

ONLY ONE CASE REPORTED

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., June 13.—Hunters in Indiana were interested in the report from Little Rock, Ark., that the United States district court there had declared unconstitutional the federal migratory bird act. There has been one arrest under that act in Indiana. Frank Essmeister of Hammond was arrested by wardens who saw him shooting birds. Essmeister pleaded guilty and was fined.

District Attorney Dailey said today that if the federal legal department believed the law constitutional, the Arkansas law finally would go to the United States supreme court. He said no decision in the Arkansas case would affect Indiana unless the supreme court finally declared the law unconstitutional or it was decided not to make further arrests under the act.

The Arkansas court based its opinion on the theory that wild birds always had been considered the property of the states, and that even the inability of the states to enforce the law did not justify the courts in extending the powers of congress beyond those granted by the constitution.

The migratory bird act prevents the shooting of birds during certain migration season. Dailey said he believed the law a very good one but said he was not prepared to give an opinion on its validity.

TO HELP COLORED YOUTH

Commercial Club Will Give Aid Towards Musical Education

(By United Press.)

Richmond, Ind., June 13.—Welsey Howard, colored youth, has so attracted the attention of the Commercial club here that it is preparing a benefit for him. This colored boy is an accomplished violinist. He holds a full scholarship in the Boston Conservatory of Music, gained by the excellence of his work. Because he is poor, he has been sorely handicapped. The Commercial Club learned of his predicament and of his work and will the latter part of June or early in July give a benefit to collect money. It is hoped that the coming year he will not be forced, as in past years, to wait in cafes for his board and play at dances for his room.

such as this the conditions depend to a certain extent on the prosperity of the farmers and large yields are the cause for general rejoicing.

Since it is early to make any predictions about the corn crop, it is difficult to tell just how the yield will be, but farmers are very optimistic about this crop and believe it will be a good year all around for the farm. The acreage is large and the corn has been benefited by the warm nights. It is said to be needing rain, but the drouth has not been hurtful yet.

The hay crop is coming along nicely. Many farmers will begin cutting clover next week. This crop is as good as could be expected, it is said, as is the timothy hay crop which will be ready for the harvest now very soon.

As usual the farmers are giving serious attention just now to the probable price of new wheat. While no quotation can yet be fixed it is believed that the price will start around eighty cents per bushel but will likely drop to seventy-five cents before much of the crop is sold. Old wheat is bringing ninety-three cents a bushel. It is said that some of the farmers who will have very large wheat crops will be satisfied with eighty cents. In fact one well-known farmer who will have thousands of bushels to market recently tried to enter into a contract with a local dealer for eighty cents but the offer was refused as it is believed that the price will drop several cents from the figure after the new crop is thrown on the market.

Extravagances.

The charge that the Democratic state administration is extravagant has never been proved more clearly than by the figures just given out from the offices of the state board of charities regarding the cost of maintaining the state institutions for the six months ending last March 31. The charge of extravagance is the leading issue of the campaign in Indiana and early developments indicate that the Republicans can prove their assertions.

Never before in the history of the Hoosier domain has so much money been paid out of the state coffers for salaries. Likewise never before were the state institutions operated at such an expense to the taxpayers of Indiana. When it so happens, through the mismanagement of affairs and the "keeping" of politicians on the state payroll, that the state is spending more money for inmates, as is the case right now, it is about time that a stop be arranged. There is no doubt but that a continuance of Democratic rule will mean a continuance of these extravagances which cropped out even in Governor Marshall's term in office preceding Governor Rabston's.

These figures, which were published a few days ago, show that the total cost of maintaining the seventeen state institutions for the six months mentioned amounted to $1,321,262.54. The total enrollment of inmates was 12,623.

The figures show that more money was paid out for salaries and wages of employees than for either food, clothing, repairs, office, domestic or outdoor departments. The average cost of maintenance per inmate for six months was $112.80. Of this amount $38.68 was paid out for salaries and wages; $31.85 for office, domestic and outdoor departments; $30.74 for food; $7.09 for ordinary repairs and $4.44 for clothing.

It cost nearly $8 an inmate more to pay the salaries and wages of the employees than it did for food for the inmates.

This staggering showing is further of importance because of the fact that the army of employees of these institutions is recruited largely from the ranks of political workers, and since the Democratic machine took charge of course, machine workers and heelers have had the call on the appointments to these jobs. This vast number of jobs affords a fine opportunity for the machine to strengthen itself in many parts of the state, for employees for all of these institutions may be picked from any county in the state.

Editorialesettes

Although Rushville has a traffic ordinance, not many drivers of vehicles seem to be aware of it. A corner policeman at Second and Main streets would help a lot. It appears that it will be a matter of education again.

Was it a Threat?

The other day Donald Powers, little son of Mrs. Lillian Powers, had been playing with blocks. He had them piled up in good fashion when a man with whom Donald was well acquainted kicked them over. Repeatedly Donald piled them up and the man knocked them down. Finally Donald expressed himself in this manner: "Look out now! Don't kick them over again. I'm not feeling well today."

Woddy Mean; Roosters?

The Jacksonian prints the following in the story concerning the Elks benefit ball game: The most important committee, however, is a committee on entertainment, the boys no doubt will feel like eating a square meal after the exercises are over and this committee will provide an elaborate fried chicken dinner in the evening, consisting of John W. Anderson, F. C. Buell, Dora M. Hilligoss, O. M. Harton, Frank Lawrence, S. C. Buell, James W. Anderson, Earl C. Davis, Fred W. Lightfoot, C. T. Davis, E. B. Lowden, Frank McCordie, C. L. Smullen, Lawrence Root, Cliff Winslip, A. G. Shanck, Charles J. Offutt, Herb Winslip.

No doubt it takes all sorts of people to make a world, but how's a person to tolerate the fellow who sits through a movie with a cud of tobacco in his mouth and is unable to express his satisfaction of disapproval?

We ought to be thankful for a kind providence that makes possible the dancing teacher. Without them we would have no tango, and therefore nothing to fuss over or rave about.

Enter the center at a gallop, according to an edict of the dancing masters meeting at Chicago this week. It appears that farmer's son who just graduated and wouldn't make a horse of himself in the hayfield will be willing to do it on the dance floor just for fashion's sake.

This is the day, kid, this is the day when the spirits rise—or in the vulgar vernacular, when the ghost walks.

Among the twentieth century indignities that are the equal of the Spanish inquisition is the habit of the barber who wraps a towel soaked with boiling water around your face and deliberately walks out in front to spit.

From a remark "Jim" Watson dropped—yes, dropped that's what we meant to say—we have a hunch that he has some knowledge of the fact that we are perpetrating this rot on an indulgent public. But we are living in the hope that he will not make a habit of reading it for fear he will recognize some of his old jokes.

CHANGE IN LINE UP FOR SUNDAY

Manager Fisher is Still After Pitcher and it Will be Either Link or Merz

THE INFIELD IS STRENGTHENED

Harry Veddern, Who Pitched Here Last Year, Will be in the Box for Cincinnati Maroons

When the Arcadians take the field Sunday afternoon against the Cincinnati Maroons, the team should be the best that has represented this city this year. The management has switched the lineup and added two new players and the change is expected to prove a winner. The lineup will probably remain as it now is the rest of the season.

The only thing bothering Manager Fisher is a pitcher. Laddy Link has not definitely decided whether he will come or not but the management has not given up hope. Link was given a good proposition but still holds out. He is under the impression that the management has no pitcher and is trying to hold the management up for too much money.

A pitcher named Merz, of Cincinnati, will be here and in case Link does not come he will pitch. Merz has been pitching in the Virginia state league and comes highly recommended. He is right handed and according to the word received should make good here. With either Merz or Link pitching the rest of the team will lineup as follows: Mattern, catch; Bridges, first; Quesser, second; Spellman, short; Johannes, third; Pierce, left; Tompkins, center and Miller, right.

The Maroons are considered one of the best road teams out of Cincinnati and are coming here expecting to win. The game should be a battle. Harry Veddern, who pitched for Rushville late last year will be in the box for the Maroons. The Arcadians will have a hard time beating himself he goes good. Veddern will have a fast team behind him. ## BEVERIDGE GOT COOL RECEPTION

MEETING AT KENDALLVILLE

No Decorated Coach or Reception Committee at Depot and Had to Take a Taxi—Some Parade

The following dispatch from Kendallville to the Huntington Herald tells of the cool reception Beveridge and a party of Progressive politicians received at a twelfth district rally Wednesday:

Albert Jeremiah Beveridge, former Republican now chief Bull Moose, drafted for the Hoosier Bull Moose, got about as warm a reception here Wednesday at a free exhibition as did "Doc" Cook at some of his chautauqua bills, where admissions were charged. Some heat attended the visit of Beveridge to Kendallville, and it was not entirely attributed to climatic conditions.

Beveridge's coming had been extensively advertised as the headliner for the Twelfth district convention for Bull Moosers. He passed through Fort Wayne en route and there was joined by Charlie Bush and other lights from Allen county. In his party were E. C. Toner, of Anderson, W. D. Hedrick of Indianapolis, and several others slated to appear as boosters for the waning cause.

When the train from the south arrived, not a soul appeared to give the distinguished gentlemen the Moose greeting. Beveridge looked about the platform askance and his characteristic frown appeared, disclosing his displeasure. He had a right in his own mind to expect more. Others in the party also looked about awry and hoped for an early appearance of a brass band and a decorated coach. None appeared, the party jumped into a taxi and the meter rate began.

Off in a distance a brass band of a town band became audible. Beveridge stuck his head out of the door and yelled to the driver:

"Where's that band?"

"Around at the Kelly hotel" came the response.

"Take us to the Kelly house, that's where we're going then," directed the chief Moose.

As the taxi pulled up at the hotel Toner jumped out and noticed the band moving away. He pushed into the hotel and asked the clerk whether the band boys were marching.

"To the depot," said the astonished clerk.

"Stop them! Stop them!" yelled the spokesman. "They don't need to go, we're here!"

"Oh, you don't have to worry; they're going to meet the southbound train as a reception committee to the girls' band from Shipshewanna," and the spokesman remembered that it was a warm day and melting was in order.

He sidled out of the hotel and a hurried canvass of the town was made for somebody in authority to convey the august information that Mr. Beveridge had arrived; was already in town and ready to be made a fuss over and bask in the pleasure of exalted recognition. He has long been used to such public courtesies and it was quite apparent he was much disgusted that an oversight had been permitted.

This fall down on the part of the reception committee took much of the starch out of Beveridge, although others of his party sought to bolster up the later happenings of the day to lend a tinge of enthusiasm to the general atmosphere. But Beveridge was "hot" and in no mood to explode elaborately on his favorite themes. Others had to stir up the necessary thunder to get satisfactory mention in the Fort Wayne Journal-Gazette.

The Moose's (singular number) parade was a "frost" for such a warm and bright day. Only between forty and fifty joined in the march behind the dejected Moose leader.

The big feature of the meeting was naming H. M. Widney, of St. Joe, to make the race for congress in the Twelfth district. Then came the fireworks. Several speeches added to the day's depression. What verbal heat was lacking, the weatherman supplemented.

A remarkable feature of the session was the repeated declaration by the speakers against amalgamation, despite the fact that this now ancient proposition long ago was passed into the silent deck as an unnecessary deal.

Republicans of the Twelfth district are optimistic over the outlook. The great number of Progressives who voted their protest against "standpatism" two years ago, apparently believe great good has been done in the way of a house-cleaning and they are back to stand for a strong party front to wage conflict for a correction of present and growing Democratic evils.

It is freely expressed that the Beveridge meeting of Wednesday did not a speck of good, but released many former converts to the "faith" in Moosism, and they are now out in the open to vote for abolition of free trade and in behalf of progressive Republican principles, seeking a return of general prosperity.

MANY GOOD RIDERS ENTERED IN RACES

Chief Interest in Motorcycle Event Centered on Match Race Between Baker and Hoffstatter

EXPECT TO MAKE FAST TIME

Indianapolis, June 13.—Many of the best motorcycle riders in the middle west were entered this afternoon in the motorcycle races at the state fair grounds. Probably most interest centered in an exhibition race between E. G. Baker and Roy Hoffstatter. Baker is probably the best known racer in the country just now, due to his recent feat in capturing the transcontinental record. He rode from San Diego to New York in 11 days, 12 hours and 10 minutes.

Over the best mile track in the state, the racers were expected to average over 70 miles an hour. Last year the ten-mile race was won at the rate of a mile in 50 seconds. There will be four races aside from the Baker-Hoffstatter contest. They are the 5 and 10-mile races for stock cars and 10 and 25-mile open races. Cash prizes totalled $120.

MINERS ARE STRONG FOR JACK DILLON

But Dope on Tonight's Fight Has Them Guessing and it Should be Real Battle

IS BOOKED FOR MANY FIGHTS

(By United Press.)

Butte, Mont., June 13.—Miners in this section who have developed a fondness for Jack Dillon, the Hoosier brawler, and who like to see him kick, were wondering today just what he would be able to do with Bob Moha of Milwaukee tonight. Some of them were a bit dubious over their favorite's chances, for they remembered reading of the awful wallop Moha gave Battling Levinsky in Wisconsin some months ago. They also remembered seeing Dillon win a decision over Levinsky here, "due to the altitude," according to Levinsky. Dillon was to weigh in at 163 today, his best fighting weight, and Moha was expected to tip the beam at about 10 pounds heavier.

Following tonight's fight Dillon will take up in rapid succession Young Weinert, New York, June 23; Jack Herrick, Memphis, June 29; Al Norton, Kansas City, July 4; Knockout Brown, Terre Haute, July 19; Dillon says he signed for all these bouts.

NEW PRESIDENT TO BE SELECTED

Believed Certain Today Provisional Head of Mexico Will be Named Almost Immediately.

HUERTA WILL BE OUT SOON

Administration Feels Sure Carranza Will Agree to Plan Backed by This Government.

BY JOHN E. NEVIN

Washington, June 13.—The new provisional president of Mexico will be selected almost immediately, is believed certain here today. Substantial progress already made has caused the belief that by the middle of next week Huerta will be out.

The administration is absolutely confident Carranza will agree to the tentative plan backed by this government and that fighting will end as soon as Huerta has formally turned over the presidential authority to the provisional government.

The chief jarring notes come from the paid junta maintained by the Constitutionalists. These men, including professional promoters of revolutions, insist that Carranza can not make any concessions as he already has won control of most of Mexico "by right of might."

The Windsor hotel will serve six o'clock dinner Sunday evening. 7911

EDITORS END MEETING TODAY

Visit Centennial at New Harmony Following Meeting at Grave of Lincoln's Mother.

TRIBUTE PAID BY SPEAKERS

Boat Ride on Ohio River Is Featured by Banquet on Return Trip—Politics Discussed.

New Harmony, Ind., June 13.—The closing feature of the mid-summer meeting of Indiana Republican Editorial association was the attendance today at the centennial which is being celebrated here. The editors were all to depart for their homes late this evening.

Tonight will mark an epoch in the life of New Harmony. The main feature of the centennial will be the pageant of the founding of the town, written by Miss Charity Dye of Indianapolis. It is to be produced by a cast of 500 persons. Posey county day was celebrated yesterday and five thousand people attended.

Yesterday two hundred editors journeyed by special train to Lincoln City to pay tribute to the mother of Abraham Lincoln over her grave. Afterwards the editor took a boat ride down the Ohio river to see the government dam under construction at Henderson, Ky.

On the return trip up the Ohio a banquet was served and for the first time during the day politics was discussed. James E. Watson and Charles W. Fairbanks spoke. Applause greeted criticism of the Wilson administration and the new tariff law.

The exercises at Lincoln City were unusual and prominent men who have traveled under all kinds of conditions declared they have never been so deeply touched by any program. Oratory that stirred the editors to tears was heard as Lincoln's virtues were extolled and frequently the audience was convulsed with laughter as some of the speakers recalled incidents of his sharp humor.

The subject of politics was forgotten. Many of the speakers declared it would be a desecration of the nation's most sacred memories to inject partisanship into the program. War veterans living near the beautifully shaded park in which Nancy Hanks Lincoln lies buried and who have attended all the exercises ever conducted there said that never before had so many notable addresses been delivered there upon one occasion. They also declared there never had so much genuine oratory been heard under the old oak, walnut and maple trees that form a canopy over the grave of the emancipator's mother.

Two former Governors, a former Vice President and the Governor of East Aurora, N. Y., in the person of Elbert Hubbard, were present, addresses being delivered by Charles Warren Fairbanks, Mr. Hubbard, former Governor Durbin of Indiana and former Governor Wilson of Kentucky. Former Governor Yates of Illinois had been invited to speak, but was not present.

Arriving at the park surrounding the grave, the editors stood with bared heads as they read the simple tombstone: "Here lies Nancy Hanks Lincoln, who died at the age of 35 years."

SUFFRAGE IS ENDORSED

Leaders Win Unanimous Vote at Federation Meeting at Chicago.

Chicago, June 13.—"Votes For Women" was endorsed by an almost unanimous vote today by the convention of a General Federation of Women's clubs. The suffrage resolution was adopted by a viva voce vote with scarcely any opposition. Suffrage cheers filled the auditorium and suffrage leaders lead the convention in singing "Hallelujah."

ELKS' LINE-UP IS ANNOUNCED

TICKETS ARE SELLING FAST

Tickets for the Elks benefit baseball game which will be played at the ball park next Friday afternoon are going like "hot cakes" just off the griddle in January. According to reports which have been made, over half of those which have been placed on sale have been sold. All they have to do is simply ask their friends "how many?" It is believed another issue will have to be printed the first of next week in order to supply the demand.

Today for the first time the line-up was made known. The Marrieds and Singles will cross bats, and judging from the personnel of the two teams, it will be a battle royal. So much interest is attached to the coming contest that every one is talking about it and boosting for their respective team.

The boys have already had considerable practice and it is reported today that some of the old-time stars are showing up well and will most undoubtedly come back and surprise the populace with their thrilling plays. J. B. Kinsinger and Frank M. Sparks declare they can hit the ball as well as ever because their batting eye is not impaired in the least.

Here's the line-up. Now take your choice:

Dora Botker has been selected as referee and Clarence Cross, starter in the "fat men's race."

Charles H. Brown, assistant postmaster, who is booking the list of entries, reports the following names and says the entries will close next Monday evening at six o'clock.

Charles H. Brown, Percy Walker, W. M. Garrigus, Homer Powell, Verne Norris, F. N. Lightfoot, Dora N. Hilligoss, E. B. Lowden.

The fat boys will take some light practice every evening, commencing Monday, when their first run will be made to Milroy and return after supper. Some of the "sports" among the Elks have posted some side bets on their favorite, and there will certainly be some coaching among the trainers and "rubbers" who have charge of their respective runners.
